Until the 1960s, passenger train service to Cameron saw several mail and passenger stops, drops or "flags" north or south each day.

Then truck service took over distribution of the mail to regional mail centers like Temple, Waco, Austin and Bryan.

Passengers went more and more to bus, auto and jet. And a ride on a passenger train is something people take kids on for an experience.

Railpax, proposal to salvage train passenger service, is being developed. It will be a private government corporation which is routing lines to 115 cities and 85 percent of U. S. population.

Such a routing will bring passenger service through Cameron on Santa Fe to Houston and back, going north to Temple, Fort Worth and Kansas City.

Service going to Dallas north from Houston would be shifted from the Santa Fe connection through Cameron and Temple, starting May 5 and going north through Waxahachie.

Temple would be an intermediate point in the Railpax system, Houston being the only terminal point. Cities even as large as Cleveland are being bypassed even as intermediate points.

As it stands, passenger service from once-busy stations like Cameron is but a memory. Even for Cleveland, center of two million population, it is going to be a memory.

Cameron, then, has one mail service in and one mail service out from this post office by truck. Cameron has no passenger service and apparently needs none, unless it is on a "flag" basis.

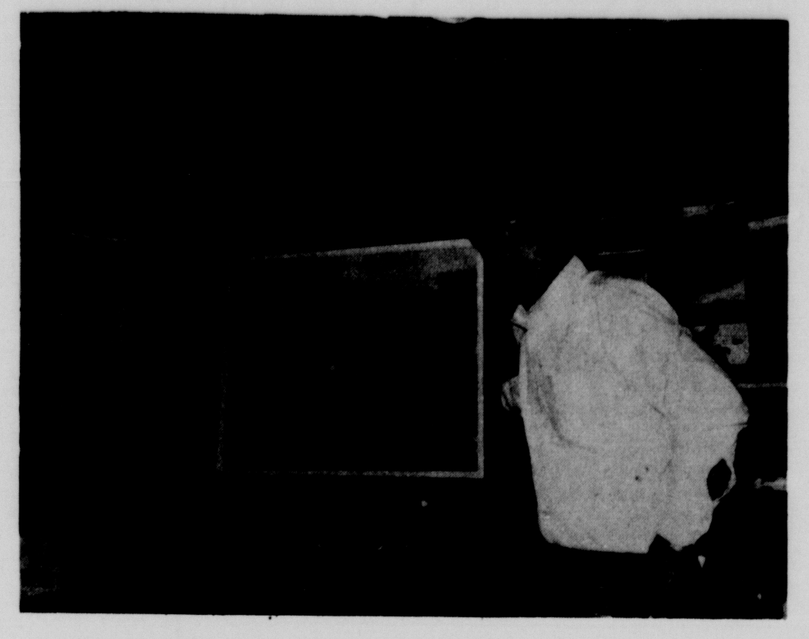
All this tells us what roads mean to the Milam area now and suggests what railroads may mean in the future.

Since rail service has been lifted, roads are our only real connection, other than private air transportation, elsewhere. Truck, bus and auto carry almost everything out. Rail freight service is considerable for hauling products in quantity in and out.

If Railpax stabilizes some passenger service, it may be the forerunner of some kind of service when highways no longer can handle egress from cities every work day afternoon.

It may be the U. S. will finally follow Japanese and Canadian example and build high speed passenger trains which will move between cities a few hundred miles apart faster than air travel, counting the lag at huge jetports.

And it may be rail passenger service one day will be a consideration through Milam County, where now a train ride is as unique as a trip to the moon.



FOLK FETE art booth at City Park will feature work by Cameron artist Donald Pimpler. The two-day Folk Fete is scheduled for June 11-12 with concessions and music at City Park, evening performances at Yoe Field, an art exhibit at the Cameron Public Library and a pilgrimage of historic Cameron homes.

Local Artist To Show Work At Folk Fete

Pimpler, mechanic and carpenter turned student and artist, is currently working on a series of landscape minatures that he will have for sale at the June 11 - 12 Folk Fete. Most of his work has been in 'realism' landscapes, however his collection includes an impressive group of pen and ink sketches of old homes and farm scenes.

Pimpler first worked as a carpenter for his father, contractor Edmund Pimpler, then qualified as a mechanic working in Cameron and later in Austin. At his wife's urging he started lessons in Austin, studying under Emmet and Roberta Speir. He sold some of his early paintings through the Town-Lake Art Club in Austin, Magness Art Center and Gallery in Waco and at the Speir's gallery on Lake Travis.

When the Speirs decided to move to Taos, New Mexico last year, the Pimplers assumed management of their Lake Travis Gallery. But it was of short duration. The gallery burned four months after they started, destroying all of the paintings including many of Pimpler's.

This helped them decide to return to Cameron, to work part time as a carpenter, to paint, and return to school. Both Donald and his wife are students at Temple Junior College.

Pimpler's watercolor entry in the Temple Junior College Fine Arts Show last weekend won a second place award. The painting, entitled 'Laywell's Barn,' was one of more than 60 entries by TJC art students. Other recent paintings are on exhibit at the Bell Studios in Temple.

The art stand is one of 10 early commitments for booth space at the Folk Fete, not including food service booths. Concessions ranging from books to balloons have been reserved to date.

Mrs. Delbert Burlison, concession stand chairman, said advance reservations had been made by Arts and Service League, Boy Scouts, Business and Professional Womens Club, Evening Lions Club, Fleur de lis Garden Club, Friends of the Library, Junior Historians, History Club, and Noon Lions Club.

"We anticipate that the concession stand section of the Folk Fete will be one of the major attractions this year," Mrs. Burlison said. She said any group or individual interested in reserving booth space could contact her for additional information.

Game Wardens Checking Rivers For Illegal Traps

Milam County Game Management Officer Dale Moore reported that 15 illegal wire fish traps had been picked up over the weekend from the Brazos River.

Moore said anyone caught using these traps or any other illegal traps or nets, faces a fine of up to $200. He added that officers will be checking the Brazos, Little, and San Gabriel rivers for the traps.

Open House Saturday For Community Building

An open house will be held Saturday afternoon at the Community Building, 704 West 6th Street, from 1 until 5 p.m.

The public is cordially invited to visit the new building and some of the new low-rent apartments, according to Fred Starnes, Cameron Housing Authority executive director.

New Wildcats Scheduling; 2 Being Completed

By Lloyd Albertson

Drilling activity in Milam County increased last week with the arrival of spring, apparently an oil operator's favorite season for beginning new explorations for the elusive black liquid.

Two new wildcats are due to be scheduled almost immediately, and two other wildcats, one recently completed and the other in process of being completed, indicate that new zones of production probably have been discovered.

One of the upcoming new wildcats will be the No. 1 Henry Woods to be drilled by Byron Rose, a Houston operator, who opened the Cherokee Navarro Field in late 1969. Location of the Henry Woods is on a 80 acre lease in B. F. Swoap Survey and east of a W. G. Westbrook 100 acre tract on which Rose has just completed a new producer.

The second new wildcat will be located on W. P. Hogan's 174 acre tract in the Milbur Field and about six miles south of Rockdale. White Shield Oil & Gas Corporation of Tulsa has two wells producing from the Navarro on this land, but the new wildcat reportedly will be drilled by Howard Cox, a new operator in Milam County. Cox is said to plan to drill a deep Edwards Lime test.

And concerning Edwards Lime exploration, a report that the No. 1 M. L. Waller, drilled by W. M. Gallaway about two weeks ago as an Edwards test, was a dry hole apparently was somewhat premature. Gallaway drilled the wildcat tight, releasing no information about it. However, according to some reliable rumors circulating in the oil patch, information about the wildcat has emerged.

The Waller, located on a 100 acre lease in D. A. Thompson Survey, was scheduled as a 6,100 foot test aimed at the Edwards Lime. However, on drilling to that zone, it was found that the Edwards had pinched out in that area and wasn't present. This prompted the report the wildcat was a dry hole.

Gallaway reportedly now has plugged the Waller back to where it entered the Navarro "D" zone, and has set pipe to around 4,500 feet. He also is said to have installed a pump on the wildcat, and is rumored to be completing it as a producer in the Navarro's prolific "D" zone.

Gallaway's wildcat is located about two miles northwest of the Cherokee Navarro Field which has a number of good producing wells in that formation. Reportedly more acreage has been leased in the vicinity of the Waller during the last few days.

The Navarro "D" zone was also tapped recently by the Byron Rose wildcat drilled on the W. G. Westbrook 100 acre lease in the Cherokee Navarro Field. Production has heretofore been from one of the upper zones of the Navarro in the field, but the Westbrook produces from both the "B" and "D" zones.

The "D" zone is deeper and was topped around 3,600 feet. Rose has not released information about potential test figures on the Westbrook, if one has been run. But according to oil patch rumor, the new "D" zone discovery is a prolific producer and is creating considerable interest over the area.

Rose's upcoming Henry Woods wildcat is expected to also have the deeper Navarro "D" zone as its objective.

City Police Uncover Coin 'Change' Scheme

A scheme to "change" Mexican coins into American money was nipped here this week when Cameron police work led to the arrests of two Fort Hood men.

According to Police Chief Felipe Martinez, Thomas R. LaDuk and Fredrick C. Bragger, both of Ft. Hood, were turned over to Federal authorities this week along with some $503.10 in Mexican ten-cent pieces found in their possession.

The case started some weeks ago when Brown's Laundry in Cameron reported finding "slugs" in the coin-changing machine. About $9 had been taken from the machine.

Chief Martinez said the owner called police this week and reported two young men had put one of the coins in a washer. Police traced the men's car license number to Temple.

The men were arrested by Temple police. Found in LaDuk's car was $301.30 in Mexican coins. Bragger waived his consent for search of his car, which was found at Killeen Municipal Airport. Some $201.80 in the coins was found in his car.

The men were charged in Milam County court with theft under $50 and were turned over to Secret Service authorities, along with the coins.

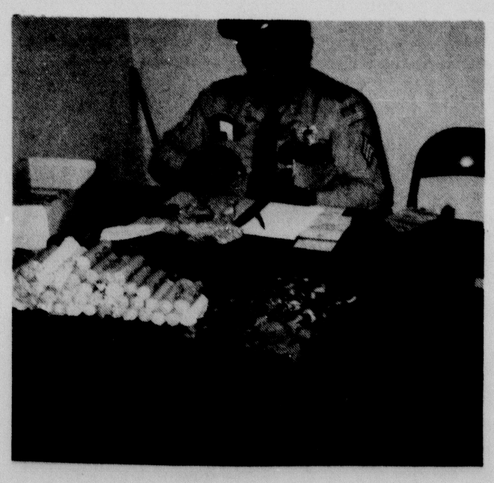
Chief Martinez said the coins, worth $63.02 in Mexico, could have brought $1,257.75 in American coins if the "changing" scheme had succeeded. No reports of the coins being found in any other machines has been received by police.



MONEY-CHANGING SCHEME by two Ft. Hood men was nipped by Cameron police this week. Shown with the $503.10 in Mexican coins are Police Chief Felipe Martinez, left, and Police Sgt. Truman White. The coins, which could be bought for $63.02 in Mexico, could have brought over $1200 to the duo by putting them in change machines in exchange for American coins.

Mishap Injures Coach Laurence

The truck was enroute to Rockdale and carrying foam rubber high jump and pole vault mats being returned to the high school. Laurence was sitting on top of the mats when the wind blew them off the back of the truck.

Yoe Assistant Coach Ernie Laurence escaped serious injuries Sunday when he fell from a pickup truck on to the highway, receiving multiple abrasions and bruises on his hips and legs.

Laurence is reported in satisfactory condition at St. Edward Hospital. He is expected to return to school in about two weeks.

Tejas Boy Scout Fair Saturday

The Tejas District Scout Fair, dubbed the "greatest show for boys in Central Texas" will be Saturday, March 27, from 3 to 8 p.m. at the National Guard Armory in Cameron.

Mayor E. A. Perrin will untie a square knot to officially open the annual Scout Fair.

A featured attraction at the Fair will be an exhibit of farm animals and pets. Ron Derry, Scout executive, said about 12 troops will participate from Cameron, Rockdale, Thorndale, Rosebud, Calvert, Milano and Franklin.

Let's Join Park Improvement...

One of the pre-June activities is a general improvement of the grounds. Troop 791 Boy Scouts are taking on the project.

They invite contributions of plantings, flowers and shrubs to enhance the appearance of the City Park for Folk Fete visitors.

This is a project which will yield good will and a good project for a Scout troop. And it invites City interest in the possibility of filling the old creek line along the east side of the park. Filling this cavity would add a sizeable area to the park grounds behind the old pavillion and swimming pool area.

If you wish to contribute to Scout Troop 791's project, contact officials at First United Methodist Church, who will notify Scout leaders and members of the prospective gift.

Not only Folk Fete will benefit. The City Park will be improved for the thousands of people who use it each year for picnics, games and reunions.

But by Folk Fete time, it will be an incentive for a better turnout the following June if City Park is attractive as it can be this June.

Bold Reach For Future...

We congratulate Cameron City Council for "keeping on keepin' on" with their endorsement of the necessary obligation for final signing of downtown urban renewal contracts with HUD.

With new leadership in A. W. McCullin, Sr., as professional Cameron Urban Renewal Agency, the project should now proceed with measurable progress toward the long - awaited downtown improvement.

New streets, curbs, sidewalks, offstreet parking and mall are in view for downtown Cameron. And new locations for a few relocated businesses in a widened Courthouse Square area are assured in this program.

City assumes one - quarter of any relocation cost remaining after July 1, 1972. According to McCullin, this would be only about $11,770, if that much, considering economies possible in the City's one-quarter matching in other projects.

McCullin was in Fort Worth - Dallas earlier this week on visits and studies with HUD officials. We hope he brings back the signed contract and now may get underway on this bold reach for the future.

OLD PHILOSOPHER

Dear editar:

It's not very important, but I was reading in a newspaper last night that there are now 255,-200,000 telephones in the world.

Furthermore, as you might guess, nearly half of those, or 114,798,000, are in the United States. We've got one phone for every two people.

But what interested me was a further breakdown in the statistics, reporting that people in the United States last year made 156,450,000,000 phone calls. If you lost track of the zeroes, that's over 156 billion calls.

Moreover, that comes out to an average of 745 telephone conversations for each man, woman and child, the report said.

Now considering the fact a lot of people don't talk on the phone at all, like infants, and a lot don't have access to phones for long hours at a time, like farmers and laborers and bus drivers, etc, plus the fact a lot of people don't even have phones, you can see that some segments of the society are making a whole lot more than 745 phone calls a year. To get up to that 156 billion calls, somebody has to talk at least 10,000 times a year, or an average of about 30 times a day.

I can believe it. I'm not calling any names, but I can believe it.

Just to be doing, I figured up how much the world is paying for its 255,200,000 telephones, more or less. Just say the average phone costs a flat $5 a month.

That's $1,266,000,000 a month, or $15,192,000,000 a year, not counting long distance calls. When you add long distance charges, I'd say it's costing the world something around 30 billion dollars a year to talk.

I started to figure up how much truth is transmitted in those 30 billion dollars worth of calls a year but I never was any good at small fractions.

Steep Cuts Due In Welfare Payments By First Of May

By Vern Sanford

Welfare beneficiaries late last week got the bad news they had been expecting -- there will be substantial cuts in their assistance payments on May 1.

Level of aid will be reduced to Aid to Families with Dependent children by about one-third, according to Welfare Commissioner Burton G. Hackney. Board of Public Welfare scheduled a meeting Monday (March 22) to place its inevitable approval on the reduction.

"The hard fact," said Hackney, "is that no more state money is available under the present constitutional ceiling on welfare expenditures. The Legislature has appropriated all that it can appropriate."

Average AFDC grant last month, based on PWD's formula of 75 per cent of "budgeted needs," was $118.

Hackney estimated the average level will drop on May 1 to about $80 a month.

In addition to steep cuts, about 4,500 families will be dropped from the rolls altogether, since at the newly-contemplated 50 per cent level of "budgeted needs," they will no longer be eligible for aid. Their income will meet the "standard of need" PWD must recognize with the limited funds available.

As of last month, there were 87,616 Texas families with 263,-809 children receiving AFDC benefits. Rolls for the last five months have been increasing at a rate of almost 11,500 a month, according to Hackney.

A proposed constitutional amendment to increase the $85 million a year ceiling on aid to aged, blind, disabled and AFDC will be voted on May 18.

Almost simultaneous with PWD's announcement of the cut (actually first predicted by Hackney last November 12), Texas Citizens for Welfare Reform announced start of its active campaign to win approval of the amendment (Proposition 3) on the May 18 ballot.

SENATE LIQUOR BILL

Senate voted 22-7 approval of the local option liquor-by-the-drink bill and sent it to the House.

Biggest battle in the Senate was whether retail package stores or wholesalers would sell to bar operators. Package stores won out, over the protest of Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, author of the bill (SB 346).

Measure now calls for $2,500 license fees for mixed beverage licenses, with $2,500 first renewal fees after one year, $500 thereafter.

Bars would be able to serve drinks in one-ounce mini-bottles or standard size containers. Senators rejected by 16-13 a "dram shop" amendment to hold liquor dispensers liable for damages of their intoxicated customers.

Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi said he will ask for a hearing next week and expects an early floor debate.

"I don't think there is any question but that we will pass a bill of some kind," said Hale. "The fight is not over final passage but what's in the bill."

TAX HEARINGS BEGIN

Hearings on the tax bill were due to begin in the Senate late this week and continue probably through most of next week.

Lt. Gov. Ben Barnes called on all interests to present their case and on all senators to ready their amendments or substitutes for the House-passed $492.5 million sales tax-franchise tax-tuition increases.

Barnes expressed hope for more orderly floor consideration of amendments with revenue estimates and amendments prepared in advance rather than at the last minute as usual.

AG OPINIONS

Texas Water Quality Board cannot force the owner of a solid waste disposal dump to post bond for a license, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin has held.

In other recent opinions, Martin concluded that:

* Galveston County contract for delinquent tax collection is not invalid because the attorney entering it is a law partner of a state legislator.
* Legislature would have to vote authority for a county to lease its property.
* City and County may cooperate to establish an ambulance service by joint contract.
* Juvenile court has jurisdiction to declare males delinquent after 17th birthday and females after 18.
* Sheriffs are not bound to furnish county auditors a monthly inventory of supplies, menus and bills for feeding prisoners.

CLUBS VIOLATE LAW

Many of the 1,811 private bottle clubs violate Texas law, Alcoholic Beverage Commission has reported.

ABC auditing chief said 197 violations were observed by agents last month in 427 clubs checked, although most can be corrected by warnings.

ABC Chairman Tom Gordon of Abilene promised February checks were the beginning of its crackdown.

Gordon said most of the violations are due to failure of club owners to understand the law.

Kubiak's Legislative Reports

Rep. Dan Kubiak commented on the resignation of Rep. Tom Bass, Democrat of Houston, from his position as chairman of the Juvenile Crime and Delinquency Committee and his request to be removed from the Rules Committee.

"Bass commented briefly," Kubiak reported in his March 19 newsletter, "and implied that he could no longer be a member of the team and that his conscience would not let him support the current activities."

More developments will follow during the next few weeks, Kubiak said.

Rep. Kubiak noted a lot of main asking information on the status of Daylight Savings Time. He said there are two bills on the issue. Both are in the Rules Committee and should come out soon, he said.

One is HB 237 which would refer the Daylight Savings Time matter to the people in a referendum. The other, HB 506 exempts the State of Texas from Federal Daylight Savings Time. Kubiak asked for comments on either of the bills.

Liquor by the drink legislation passed the Senate and is now coming to the House for debate. The Senate-passed bill has eight amendments attached to it.

Briefly, the proposal includes the following:

1. The license fee will be $2500 for the first and second years and $500 for each year thereafter.
2. The mini-bottle provision is now optional.
3. The liquor will be bought from the retailers.
4. The local option provision is intact in the bill.

This week the House passed HB 329 which places Blue Cross Insurance Companies under the premium tax. Previously, this was the only insurance company in the state not affected by the premium tax.

However, the group insurance rate proposal failed in the Senate Insurance Committee by a 3-7 margin. Texans' chances of buying car insurance at cheap group rates dimmed as the Senate Insurance Committee rejected the bill by Senator Oscar Mauzy of Dallas, Rep Kubiak said.

"Low Down" FROM THE Congressional Record

By JOE CRUMP

WHO NEEDS WOMEN'S LIB?

SENATOR CLIFFORD P. HANSEN (Wyo.) ". . . I ask unanimous consent that a brief biography of Thyra Thomson and the article entitled WHO NEEDS WOMEN'S LIB? both of which appeared in the Empire magazine, be printed on the Record."(Excerpts follow) Note -- Thyra Thomson of Wyoming, is one of eight women secretaries of State in the nation. But Mrs. Thomson ranks highest because she's the only elected secretary of state who serves as lieutenant governor. She was elected Wyoming's first woman secretary of state in 1962, and re-elected in 1966 and 1970. She's a native of Florence, Colo., and an honors graduate of the University of Wyoming. Her late husband, Keith Thomson was a three-term Republican congressman who was Wyoming's Senator elect when he died in 1960. Mrs. Thomson has three sons: Bill, 27; Bruce, 24 and Casey, 18. ---

"Every time I read about Women's Lib demonstrators burning their bras or crashing for-men-only saloons, I wonder when the voice of sweet reason will penetrate the current crusade for women's rights. . .

"I think it's time women admitted we've had equal rights a long time. We simply haven't done much with them...

"A man may be measured by his work but a woman measures herself by her success with men. That's something Women's Lib wants to change, and if this means judging women as people I wouldn't want to change the innate desire of women to be attractive to men.

"Instead, I'd like to teach them that for many years of their lives, they have to be attractive to employers, too. Let's teach women how to get a job as well as how to get a man. And let's teach them early. . .

"I didn't learn how to do the job in a blinding flash. I worked as a secretary before I was married. I had studied business administration, sociology and psychology in college. I kept up my skills and got a lot of on-the-job training working with my husband in Washington. I earned equality in a far more practical way than burning my bra. . .

"Women will eventually achieve wage parity: equal pay for equal work. When they do, EMPLOYERS WILL PROBABLY HIRE MORE MEN, and more women will stay home.

"An indirect result of men's demanding higher and higher pay in the past was that women were hired--IT WAS SIMPLE ECONOMICS. WOMEN WORKED FOR LESS.

"When men and women command identical pay, WOMEN WILL FORFEIT THE ADVANTAGE OF BEING LOW BIDDERS AND PROBABLY END UP WITH FEWER JOBS. . .

"I agree with Women's Lib that they should have the same earning power, the same opportunity for advancement as men. Somehow I find it difficult to view men as the enemy."

A GRASSROOTS COMMENT

OAK POISONING

Cattle grazing in pastures in which sand shin oak is growing should be watched carefully. Dr. James M. Armstrong, Extension veterinarian, warns that the plant is very palatable and toxic to cattle when it first buds in the spring. The blossoms, buds, leaves and stems are all toxic. Since grazing is very short in areas where the oak is found, stockmen should take special note if cattle are grazing the plant.

You could get up earlier. Then you'd be sure to beat her to it. Of course she wouldn't be too impressed with your chivalry.

Another alternative is a larger gas water heater. Gas water heaters are easy to buy, easy to install, and recover hot water up to twice as fast as comparable electric models.

So stop competing with your better half. Get a larger capacity hot water heater. For fewer fights and lots more hot water.

County Agent's Notes

Pecan Grafting Meeting Tonight

By J. D. Moore

A joint Pecan Budding and Grafting meeting for Bell and Milam county pecan growers will be held at the Rogers High School cafeteria Thursday night, March 25, 7:30 p.m. (tonight).

Dr. J. W. Worthington, area horticulturist will use interesting illustration material to explain correct procedures for effective pecan propagation.

The program is designed to help beginners as well as experienced pecan growers. The program is for those interested in pecans.

GRASS VARIETIES

Many requests have been received concerning grass varieties for Milam County. Some have asked for an opinion on Ermelo Lovegrass.

According to Mr. Norris, McGregor researcher, Coastal Bermuda will produce more high quality forage than will Ermelo Lovegrass. Also, a better quality hay.

Ermelo Lovegrass is adapted to deep, coarse sands and on severely eroded medium textured soils where more desirable grasses are difficult to establish and maintain.

Ben Hardie and Bob Bailey report success with a planting of Ermelo Love Grass located on the Hiway between Milano and Caldwell.

YEAR-ROUND GRAZING

Pasture research studies at the McGregor station shows that year-round grazing can be provided for an animal unit with one to two acres each in separate pastures of TAM Wintergreen and Kleingrass 75.

Grazing performance of TAM Wintergreen show animal performance and livestock gains per acre comparable to those for oats. Once established, the annual maintenance cost on TAM as well as Kleingrass will be for fertilization and a limited amount of weed control at time of establishment.

Kleingrass 75 in grazing experiments at McGregor station produced the highest livestock gains per acre of warm season perennial grasses tested. Kleingrass 75, said Norris, is noted for its vigor, drouth-resistance, long growing season, persistence and outstanding forage production.

Milano Youth Joins Angus Association

Thomas G. Harley, 17 of Milano has been granted a junior membership in the American Angus Association at St. Joseph, Missouri, announces Lloyd D. Miller, executive secretary.

This new junior membership entitles the member to register purebred Angus at regular membership rates and to the privileges of the Association until the age of 21. At that time junior members are eligible to convert to lifetime memberships in the Association.

There were 161 young people in the United States to receive junior memberships last month.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

By Danny Phillips

"Meetings are boring. Project books are hard work. This would be okay if something more exciting and fun would balance them out. Today's young people are curious. They think for themselves. For this reason, 4-H must be new, different, exciting.

"I don't think 4-H is dying though, because it has quite a bit to offer in the way of education. But unless it changes some of its methods, it probably won't reach the kids it needs to reach most!"

That's how one teen 4-H lass reacted recently when asked what she thinks of the organization she's been participating in nearly seven years. Sounds a bit angry at first. But a second glance reveals tinges of disenchantment.

Basically, she's happy with the program--she says so. And she's stayed in 4-H "because it has quite a bit to offer". What maybe irks her most is that: "4-H emphasizes project development too much and personal development too little," as another teen, who has been in 4-H ten years, responded to the same question.

Flexibility, key to 4-H's past success, remains a vital part of 4-H. Consequently, committees and individuals on all levels are working with youth, seeking their suggestions and planning ways they can implement them without deteriorating already successful methods and materials.

Indicative of the philosophy behind this willingness to adapt . . .to change. . .to update, are comments from a leaflet produced by Eaton County, Michigan, extension service:

"If 4-H leaders will help each member write a 4-H plan based on his goals. . .compliment each member for even small progress toward his goals. . .discuss facts, choices and possible outcomes with members, but insist that they make their own decisions. . discuss the results of members' past decisions and actions with them. . .accept members with opinions and appearances that may differ from those leaders or other members may have. . . provide situations where each member has equal opportunity to develop or participate. . and demonstrate project or activity skills, or help locate competent resource people for members' needs, then. . .

"4-H members will learn to make more intelligent decisions . . .learn to set individual and group goals and achieve them . . .become skillful at something . . .become more creative. . . learn more about their own abilities and limitations. . .develop and recognize their own values . . .learn to express themselves clearly and convincingly. . .develop leadership talents. . .and learn to care about others."

Then the leaflet concludes: "We think that's mainly what 4-H youth programs should be about. . .Do you?"

Quick Dishes Theme For County 4-H Foods Show

By Christine Laws

Combine attractive tables, good food, lots of nutritional knowledge, and a group of active going young people and the Milam County 4-H Food Show is the result.

The food show was held March 6 at Simon George Hall in Cameron. The theme for the show was quick dishes. A quick dish is defined as one that is prepared and ready for service in 1 1/2 hours.

Setting up for preparation and clean-up would also be included in this time. Convenience foods could be used in combination with other foods.

Each had to decide on a recipe, plan a balanced day's menu and complete a 4-H foods and nutrition project record. On the day of the show the 4-H'ers each had an attractive table setting in which to display their quick dish.

The foods show is divided into two divisions: Junior - anyone between ages of 9 - 14 by January 1st and Senior - anyone between ages of 14-19 by January 1st. In each division there are four groups: Meat, Milk, Bread and Cereal and Vegetables and Fruit.

Each entry must contain an adequate serving of either meat, bread and cereal, fruit and vegetable or milk in each serving.

The girls are also judged on the appearance of their table setting, their knowledge of nutrition, and other important points.

The two top individuals in the Junior and Senior division will participate in the district 4-H Food Show, April 16, at Tarleton State College at Stephenville.

Those participating will include in the Sr. Division: Connie Cone - vegetable division; of Minerva 4-H Club and Josi Garza in the meat division of the Rockdale 4-H Club. Connie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Coneway Cone of Minerva. Josi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Garza of Rockdale.

Also participating in the senior division was Rufus Lamere in the bread division and Bertha Rosemond in the meat division.

In the Junior Division: Rosemary Ehler placed 1st in the meat group and Priscilla Lamere, 1st in the vegetable and fruit group. They will both participate in the District Food Show.

Judges for the event were: Mrs. I. N. Hughes, Mrs. Bob Foster, Mrs. Jean Henderson and Miss Davida Applebaum.

ASCS

By Douglas Buck

A producer whose farm conserving base is a limiting factor in operating his farm in line with good management practices may appeal for an adjustment of the base through the end of farm program signup, April 9.

Three important provisions will be observed by the Milam County ASC Committee in adjusting conserving bases for changes in farming operations. They are:

--Downward adjustment of a conserving base will be made only upon a determination that farm operations have changed from conserving crops to non-conserving crops in recent years, or in the judgment of the county committee, such a change will be made this year.

--Acreage removed from the conserving base will be limited to that determined to be suitable for continuous cropping.

--Downward adjustment will not be made to accommodate a farm's required set-aside acreage under the 1971 farm programs.

Basically, the rules on conserving bases are being updated in line with modern farming operations. Today's market-oriented farm policy requires that farmers have more freedom for decision - making about their farm operations. The set-aside farm programs of 1971 provide for this by getting away from the rigid crop limitations of previous programs.

As for conserving bases, although adjustments have been made over the years for tangible changes in farm operations, in some instances conserving bases still tended to keep producers locked into types of farming operations that were no longer in their best interests.

Or they may have had to choose between staying out of farm programs or continuing an uneconomic farm operation.

An adjustment can be made by the County ASC Committee, but it must be requested by a producer on the farm. Adjustments cannot be made to accommodate set-aside acres. This means that producers cannot be given an adjustment in their conserving base simply to make up for the land they must set aside in order to participate in the 1971 farm programs. The county committee will review the entire farm operation on the basis of intended cropping.

Conserving acreage which is recommended only for conserving uses, such as grass cover, must remain the conserving base. No authority is given for making an adjustment that will result in a conserving base of less than the acreage recommended for conserving uses.

Updating corn and grain sorghum base acreages:

Producers wishing to update their corn and grain sorghum base acreages are being reminded that they must file a request with the county committee by April 9. For more information, contact the Milam County ASCS Office.

Cattle Face Nutritional Problems During Drouth

COLLEGE STATION

Beef cattle which have been on dry ranges for the past six months are faced with serious nutritional deficiencies.

The first deficiency is a lack of sufficient range grass or forage. It is further complicated by the low quality or absence of sufficient total digestible nutrients.

This kind of roughage contains little or no protein, energy, phosphorus or Vitamin A.

Decisions are difficult to make during such stress periods. One management practice is to attempt to get animal units corrected to forage supply. Calves may be weaned earlier than usual or creep fed to help relieve grazing pressure and thus improve cow condition.

Less replacement cattle should be kept and herd culling is always in order. Non-breeders, slow breeders, irregular breeders, and cows which have consistently produced lower grade, light weight calves need to be marketed.

Palpate cows to determine pregnancy and sell those which are not pregnant.

There is no cheap way out when pasture forage is gone. However, there are some ways to reduce losses.

Under extreme droughty conditions it may be advisable to confine foundation herd to small acreages. High energy feeds such as grains and protein supplement may be fed in limited amounts for maintenance.

Forage is the critical feed and is usually high in cost for total digestible nutrients.

Phosphorus is the mineral most likely to be deificent under these conditions. A mineral supplement with a 1:1 ration of calcium to phosphorus should be fed free choice.

Salt should also be fed free choice.

Vitamin A may or may not be deficient depending upon the forage. Feeds fortified with Vitamin A should be considered. Synthetic Vitamin A is available for use in drinking water, injections and may be fed by hand through feeds.

More detailed information may be obtained through local county agricultural agents. Ask for publications on "Supplemental Feeding of Beef Cattle."

never take our freedom for granted

Appreciate it.
Protect it.
But never take it for granted or one day we may suddenly discover it's no longer ours.

Miss "Liberty Enlightening the World" is one symbol of our freedom—the freedom that allows us to read these very words, uncensored by government. The freedom that allows us to speak up in public, choose the career we want, change jobs, travel, own property . . . and the freedom of a thousand other privileges.

Appreciate our freedom. We must protect it . . . so it will last all our lives—and all our children's lives—and beyond.

In- Season Salads With Shrimp, Fruit

Shrimp is a versatile food which combines well with many other foods such as fruits, vegetables, pastas, and an endless array of sauces. This can be an advantage if the smart housewife keeps in mind the seasonal bargains in fruits and vegetables while doing her weekly grocery shopping.

An example of a very simple salad that would be in season now is a combination of shrimp and grapefruit. Prepare six individual salads by arranging alternate rows of shrimp and grapefruit sections on salad greens.

To serve six you'll need 3/4 pound cooked shrimp (about one pound of raw, in - shell Gulf shrimp), and one grapefruit. A Texas Ruby Red would be especially pretty. Garnish with a dab of mayonnaise or a celery seed salad dressing.

Shrimp and apples go well together to make another refreshing salad when appetities don't call for heavier food. There was a time when both shrimp and apples were considered luxury foods that could only be afforded at certain times of the year. But now that modern modes of transportation and storage are available, almost anyone can afford them any month of the year.

SHRIMP AND APPLE SALAD

3/4 pound cooked shrimp
2 cups diced red apples
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup chopped celery
1 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
Lettuce

Cut large shrimp in half. Combine all ingredients, except lettuce. Chill and serve on lettuce. Serves six.

Dr. Dugger Ordered To Active Duty

Dr. Roy Dugger, president of Texas State Technical Institute, has been ordered to active duty in the U.S. Navy, beginning April 25.

Dr. Dugger, a Commander in the U.S. Naval Reserve, will work in the Office of the Assistant Secretary of the Navy in Washington, D.C.

Asked to comment on his active duty assignment in the Navy, Dr. Dugger indicated he would be concerned with career development programs for military and civilian personnel who are responsible for the maintenance of certain kinds of Navy equipment and material.

At this time he was not able to project the length of his active duty during which time he would be on leave from Texas State Tech.

Former Sgt. Awarded Navy Medal

Former Marine Sergeant Sidney D. Shelton was presented the Navy Commendation Medal with Combat 'V' for "meritorious achievement while serving as Chief Scout with the Intelligence Section of the Second Battalion, Ninth Marines, Third Marine Division in Vietnam."

The citation said in part: "Sergeant Shelton distinguished himself by the outstanding performance of his duties and displayed an exceptional knowledge of enemy tactics and equipment."

On numerous occasions, the citation said, when the company entered a hostile complex of bunkers or living facilities, Shelton first searched the area alone and ensured that it was safe for the other Marines to enter. On one occasion he was credited with pursuing a patrol of hostile soldiers, forcing them to withdraw.

The citation said: "By his leadership, professional competence and steadfast devotion to duty, Sergeant Shelton contributed significantly to the accomplishment of his unit's mission and upheld the finest traditions of the Marine Corps and of the United States Naval Service."

TSTI Has Program Open All Year For High School Dropout

Texas State Technical Institute officials have announced a program at the James Connally Tech Campus which is open for enrollment at any point during the school year for students wishing to pursue a technical career.

Professor Bill Rueter, chairman of the technical development curriculum, said that a student does not need to wait until a trimester starts in order to enroll in this particular program.

Rueter said that the program can be used by high school drop outs to bridge the gap between their departure from high school and entry into a technical or vocational program.

Also, the course is offered to those persons who have not attended high school for some time and need a refresher course before entering technical study.

It is designed to strengthen the student's ability in those areas which are essential to the successful development of a technician.

Our Symbol

One of our most treasured relics is the Liberty Bell. It is so-called because it was rung on July 8, 1776 to summons the citizenry for the terse announcement that the Declaration of Independence had been adopted. Today, it remains the greatest symbol of a nation free from tyranny in government and intolerance in religion . . . that nation is America.

But one fact often overlooked is that when the historic bell was originally cast its makers turned to the Bible, to Leviticus, for the words inscribed around its contour: "Proclaim Liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof." What a beginning! What a heritage! What a privilege to be a son or daughter of Freedom's Land. What a blessing to be an American.

How great is our Symbol!!!

Honor Society Involved In Plight Of POW's

Teen-agers can and do get involved.

Members of the National Honor Society of Yoe High School have been active since November 1970 in backing Milam County's involvement in concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia.

Yoe Honor Society involvement started with an appeal for letters to the North Vietnam delegation in Paris. This appeal was carried to other schools and to members of civic clubs and church groups. Involvement grew to include two television presentations on KCEN TV, a petition signing booth in downtown Cameron, and is being culminated now with an active backing of the National Week of Concern for Prisoners of War and Missing in Action in Southeast Asia.

Pastors of various churches were contacted last week and asked to set aside some part of their service on Sunday, March 21, for recognition of this special week, and to make available to their congregations copies of the suggested schedule of activities for the week.

This week National Honor Society members have made signs which are displayed across downtown streets and on the Yoe High tennis Court fence and have circulated signs which concerned citizens may display in their yards.

Mayor E. A. Perrin has proclaimed the week of March 21-27 as Camerons National Week of Concern for POW's and MIA's. Station KMIL is reminding citizens to remember the plight of approximately 1500 fellow Americans. A moment of silence in memory of POW's and MIA's is being observed each morning in both Yoe High and Ada Henderson schools.

A fifteen minute program concerning the POW - MIA plight has been presented in Yoe High and Cameron Junior High Schools by NHS senior members John Ben Sutter, Edward Whitley, Gay Chancey, Kathryn Kahler, and Linda Jones.

Public attention given to the POW - MIA cause in the United States has achieved results. Longer, more frequent letters have been received by families. Allowable package weight has been raised from six to eleven pounds. North Vietnamese officials have released TV film and magazine pictures of some prisoners living in 'ideal' prison conditions.

The National Honor Society chapter of Yoe High School, plus the families of POW's and MIA's ask you to write a letter to Paris asking for:

1. Identification of all POW's;
2. Release of sick and injured POW's to neutral powers;
3. Free exchange of mail between POW's and families;
4. Impartial inspection of POW facilities.

Senator's Bill Seeks State Finanancing School Program

Sen. Wayne W. Connally last week introduced legislation in the Texas Senate providing for the State to assume 100 percent financing of the Foundation School Program.

In a statement issued to reporters March 17, Connally noted that under our present program, the Legislature sets the level of teacher salaries and school services but pays only 80 percent of the costs.

In the next biennium, Connally said, local school districts will have to raise $439,000,000 as their sahre of the minimum Foundation School program.

"This is in addition to the many millions of dollars they must raise to pay for the costs of construction and operation of their schools," he added.

"This present practice violates the basic political and economic principles upon which our State and nation were founded," he stated, "We need to return to the basic principle that any unit of government which proposes programs to benefit the public should also have the full responsibility for finding the money to finance such programs."

Connally said the ad valorem property tax, relied upon as the sole base of support at the local level, "is fast approaching its maximum economic and legal limitations."

The senator also said he will submit an amendment to the House-passed tax bill this substitute revenue plan: an increase in the Corporate Franchise tax by 75 cents and a 1-penny increase in the sales tax, both figures above the House recommendations, providing in aggregate $458,000,000.

In conclusion, the statement said, "we must provide a tax base with built in growth to match our growing needs, and stop begging aid from the Federal government - borrowing money from our retirement funds - and buck-passing the burdens of taxation back to local school boards."

Rogers Student Wins Scholarship

The winners in a new national scholarship program to help minority - group members transfer from two - year colleges to four - year programs were announced by the Ford Foundation. Named were 1,009 scholarship recipients and 1,807 honorable mention candidates from 417 two-year colleges.

The winners include black Americans, Mexican - Americans, American Indians, and Puerto Ricans. They were nominated by the junior and community colleges they now attend.

A general lack of college financial aid for transfer students prompted the Foundation to initiate the new $2.1 million program.

Senior Girls Invited To Pan Hellenic Meet

The Pan Hellenic Association of Bryan-College Station will host the annual rush forum on Saturday, March 22 at 10 a.m. in the CNB room of City National Bank. The meeting is to provide information about national sororities and rush activities at various colleges and universities in this area.

Watson Bills On Insurance Introduced

Sen. Murray Watson reports the introduction of a number of bills designed to aid Texans buying insurance.

One would require all insurers authorized to do business in Texas to accumulate funds in trust and to account separately for such funds.

The trust funds will be liable for assessments to be made by the Commissioner of Insurance when an insurance company becomes impaired.

Another bill is similar, Watson said, except that it protects policy holders and claimants of impaired property and places assessments against casualty insurors.

Another is designed to protect policy holders and claimants in the event of catastrophe and conflagration. The act also provides for establishing a trust fund to provide coverage for such disasters as the Waco and Lubbock tornadoes.

In auto insurance, another bill provides for drivers having a bad driving record and needing property damage insurance may obtain the needed insurance at a rate different from the standard rate accorded safe drivers.

"This will help the 'risky' driver obtain insurance and protect the safe driver from those who do not have insurance," Watson said.

"We have long needed insurance of this type to protect those who drive in a safe and sane manner from those who use our streets and highways in a manner that is unsafe to all who travel them," he concluded.
